

NURS-6512N-20, ADVANCED HEALTH ASSESSMENT (2023) SPRING QUARTER TEST EXAM

Exam Elaborations Questions with Complete Answers

NURS-6512N-20

Advanced Health Assessment.

2023 Spring Quarter Exam

- Question 1

0 out of 0 points

When completing this exam, did you comply with Walden University's Code of Conduct including the expectations for academic integrity?

Selected Ye
Answer: s

- Question 2

1 out of 1 points

The family history for a patient with joint pain should include information about siblings with:

Selected genetic
Answer: disorders.

- Question 3

1 out of 1 points

When the Goodenough-Harris Drawing Test is administered to a child, the evaluator principally observes the:

Selected presence and form of body
Answer: parts.

- Question 4

1 out of 1 points

In the adult, the apical impulse should be most visible when the patient is in what position?

Selected Uprig
Answer: ht

• Question 5

1 out of 1 points

When assessing a 17-year-old for nuchal rigidity, you gently raise his head off the examination table. He involuntarily flexes his hips and knees. To confirm your suspicions associated with this positive test, you would also perform a test for the _____ sign.

Selected Answer: Kerni g

• Question 6

1 out of 1 points

A red, hot swollen joint in a 40-year-old man should lead you to suspect:

Selected Answer: gout.

• Question 7

1 out of 1 points

Electrical activity recorded by the electrocardiogram (ECG) tracing that denotes the spread of the stimulus through the atria is the:

Selected Answer: P wave.

• Question 8

1 out of 1 points

Which cranial nerves are usually evaluated during the examination of the eyes?

Selected Answer: III and VI

• Question 9

1 out of 1 points

A pulsation that is diminished to the point of being barely palpable would be graded as:

Selected Answer: 1

• Question 10

1 out of 1 points

Your 15-year-old patient is athletic and thin. Radiography of an ankle injury reveals a stress fracture. You should question this patient about her:

Selected Answer: menstrual cycles.

• Question 11

1 out of 1 points

 A positive straight leg raise test usually indicates:

Selected lumbar nerve root
Answer: irritation.

• Question 12

1 out of 1 points

 A common finding in markedly obese and pregnant women is:

Selected lordosi
Answer: s.

• Question 13

1 out of 1 points

 A patient you are seeing in the emergency department for chest pain is suspected of having a myocardial infarction. During the health history interview of his family history, he relates that his father had died of "heart trouble." The most important follow-up question you should pose is which of the following?

Selected "What age was your father at the time of Answer: his death?"

• Question 14

1 out of 1 points

 A patient in the deepest coma would be scored a _____ on the Glasgow Coma Scale.

Selected 3
Answer:

• Question 15

1 out of 1 points

 Cranial nerve XII may be assessed in an infant by:

Selected observing the infant suck and
Answer: swallow.

• Question 16

1 out of 1 points

 A 23-year-old white woman has come to the clinic because she has missed two menstrual periods. She states that her breasts have enlarged and that her nipples have turned a darker color. Your further response to this finding is to:

Selected suggest pregnancy
Answer: testing.

• Question 17

1 out of 1 points

One of the most important aspects to consider in the orthopedic screening examination is:

Selected Answer: symmetry.

Question 18

1 out of 1 points

To spread the breast tissue evenly over the chest wall, you should ask the woman to lie supine with:

Selected Answer: one arm overhead and a pillow under her shoulder.

Question 19

1 out of 1 points

An idiopathic spasm of arterioles in the digits is termed:

Selected Answer: Raynaud disease.

Question 20

1 out of 1 points

If pitting edema is unilateral, you would suspect occlusion of a:

Selected Answer: major vein.

Question 21

1 out of 1 points

Tarry black stool should make you suspect:

Selected Answer: upper intestinal bleeding.

Question 22

1 out of 1 points

A parent is advised to restrict contact or collision sports participation for their child. An example of a sport in which this child could participate is:

Selected Answer: riflery.

Question 23

1 out of 1 points

When is the mental status portion of the neurologic system examination performed?

Selected Answer: Constantly, throughout the entire interaction with